

A/V Needs

Here is Shawna's wish list. If you aren't able to provide these, let's discuss! She is super easy-going and always willing to adapt to meet your budget needs or existing equipment.

- LCD and Screen
- No Lectern on the stage if possible. If a lectern is needed, it ideally would be off to one side.
- Wireless handheld mic preferred, but she can absolutely cope with a wireless lav if necessary, with only a minor tantrum.
- Shawna is weirdly attached to her own laptop and will bring a dongle that can connect to HDMI, USB, or VGA.
- If Shawna is unable to use her own laptop, a confidence monitor is requested to show Presenter View so she can see upcoming slides.
- Music! If no A/V team is present to play music, no problem! Shawna would love a sound hookup to play lively music to get the audience in an energized mood before she speaks (especially if she's speaking first thing in the morning or after lunch!).
- Chocolate for you and her to celebrate after the conference is over.

Room Set-up specifically for the session 'Your Best Year Starts Today'

This is a highly interactive session with audience members moving about the room and having standing conversations in small groups. Ideally, the room would have plenty of space around the perimeter, between tables, or at the back of the room for people to meet and have their discussions.
